Atlantic and Pacific Canal.

mus of Darien, provides for ceding to the Com. al wealth. pany the line for the projected work, with eighty tant advantages will be secured to Great Britain, and between them. both political and commercial, by the completion of the vast work here projected.

The time has been when the construction of $1,400. this Atlantic and Pacific Canal-a work of worldwide concernment-was in our own hands if we had chosen to take up the matter. Other nations bitantly high at the Lake. on the other side of the water held back as though it were expected that our Government would excate an enterprise to which it seemed called by position as the foremost power on the Atlantic continent, and as a power whose commercial spirit and energy would hardly brook the interference of a European nation in a work so peculiarly American. The occasion, however, has been suffered to pass. Through our tardy indifference the work which we would not do has fallen into hands that will do it-into hands which will hold it with a steady grasp when it is done. The key of the whole American continent is to be in the keeping of England-there being, as it would seem, no proper guardian of it on this side of the Atlantic-at least none with spirit enough to step forth and claim the function.

The completion of a ship canal between the two oceans, as projected, will mark an era in the world's age. The event will stand forth to give a distinctive character to the century. It is to be a five years' work-to endure for ever. The whole aspect of commerce will be changed by it. It will accelerate the revolution now going on in China more rapidly and more thoroughly, than all the force of British armament-and not there only will it work changes, but in all Polynesia and Australasia, and the Western coasts of South America, which are now reached by doubling Cape Horn.

We observe that a writer in the Alexandria Gazette is of opinion that a better route for a canal between the two oceans is by way of the river St. Juan and lake Nicaragua-much better than across the isthmus of Darien. This latter route is through a mountainous region for some forty or fifty miles, while by the other the distance required to be cut will not exceed fifteen or twenty miles, and as rivers enter into the Pacific at no great distance above lake Nicaragua, the inference is fair that no great difference of elevation exists between the lake and the ocean. [Baltimore American.

The canal, upon which 4,000 men are now engaged, is to be completed in five years. The toll is to be 8 francs a ton. The Government of New Granada ceded to the Barings the whole line of the work, with 80,000 acres. [Newark Daily.

PENNSYLVANIA ERIE CANAL .-- We understand that Messrs. Watts, Colt and Roberts, authorized by the Eric Canal Company to negotiate a loan for the completion of this Canal, are now in this city at the Merchants' Hotel. The State of Pennsylvania has expended upward of $4,000,000 upon this important work. The amount now required to complete the line, according to a careful estimate made by the Company's Engineer, is $311,000. For this comparatively small sum, this connexion of the Ohio River and the Lakes may be finished and opened for use by September 1st. 1844. Its length is 136 miles, of which 116 miles, extending from Beaver to Meadville, in Crawford county, are finished and in regular use, and the tolls arising thereon, although derived from a trade altogether local, exceeds the cost of superintendence and repairs. An important business is anticipated on this line when opened to Erie, in the coal trade from the Shenango Valley to the Lake country .- This coal is spoken of by Professor Rogers as of a superior quality-being free from sulphur, and admirably adapted to steam purposes, &c. It can be delivered at Eric for 8 cents per bushel or $2 40 per ton; at Buffalo for about $3 50 per ton; at Rochester for about $4 per ton, and at Kingston, Toronto, &c. in Canada, for less than $4 per ton. It can also be carrried to the city of New-York and successfully be brought into competition with the bituminous coal of Virginia.

In addition to a large coal trade, this line will also secure the carrying trade between the Ohio River and Western New-York and Canada, and a considerable portion of the trade now passing through the Ohio and Eric, and the Pennsylvania and Ohio Canals. It is the shortest connexion which can be made between the Ohio River and the Lakes, and the capital required to effect its completion being so very small, will enable the Company to obtain complete control and thus reduce the cost of transportation to its minimum. The charter of the company is very liberal, and authorizes them to lower the tolls to any extent. The Company is also authorized to borrow money and to mortgage the whole of the finished improvements between the Ohio and Lake Erie as

This opportunity of investment is worthy the attention of our caditalists.

MARINE COURT Before Judge HAMMOND .--John Singer vs. Wm. C. Carpenter and others .- Action for trespass, in consequence of a levy upon the fixtures and proions contained in the 'Bowery Cottage Meat Shop' on execution against Clark Vandewater. Mr. Singer is a butcher in Essex Market, but claims to have owned the shop in the Bowery, and to have hired Vandewater to keep it, who got out a license in his own name. UPPER POLICE OFFICE John Burns, of 492 Bowery, on Tuesday applied to Justice Gilbert for a war-rant against Peter Nesdale for assault and battery, and, as is usual in such cases, at this office, was requested guarate to bring some corroborating witness to sustain his statement. Burns said that a man named Terence Fitzpatnick saw the transaction, but would not come to the office unless subpoenaed; and a subpoena was thereupon given him by the magistrate, which Burns served upon Fitzpatrick by reading it to him. The latter, however, swore he would not obey it, and did not-when Justice Gilbert issued an attachment againt against Fitzpatrick as for a contempt, and officer J. T. Smith arrested and brought him to the Office where he cursed the magistrate, denounced and defied the law, and swore he would not yield to its requirements. Af ter an appropriate reproof for his lawless conduct and his provoking and profane language, Justice Gilbert told him he would convince him that the law was his master and that he was bound to obey it; and so he said he could not pay a fine of $10 he would imprison him for 30 days. He was accordingly conducted to prison, awaring, resisting and fighting as he went. . Of the balance, about 40 head were driven North and a few only remain in market unsold.

Sands's Sarsaparilla.—The amount of suffering relieved by this invaluable preparation is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Thousands hive been restored to health by its bealing and regenerating efficacy, who were considered past the reach of remedial means, as various certificates heretofore published abundantly prove. It has received the entire approbation of many practitioners in this and other cities, and its rapid growth in the estimation of the public has placed it beyond the reach of detraction or the efforts of competition. Diseases which arise from impurity of the blood or vitation of the humors generally, such as Serofula or King's Evil, Rheumatism and Incipient Gout, Salt Rheum and other cutaneous diseases. Feer Sores, Internal Abscesses, Fistulas, Chronic Catarrh, Ulceration of the Throat and Nostrik, painful Affections of the Bones, Chronic I-flammation of the Kidneys, Female Derangements, General Debility and Protration of the System, are all removed by its use.

For conclusive evidence of its superior value and efficacy, see certificates published in this and other city papers.

Themas Paine's Age of Reason.—Whoever among the caucid of our citizens has read this work will doubtless acknowledge, after all that has been said about it, that there is but little reason in it; but after all, there is as much reason in his work as there is in many or most of those who have been and still are in the habit of using medicine for diseases, for most persons do not seem to have any discrimination with regard to the character of the testimonials, or the reputation of the medicine they purchase. For instance, a medicine vender comes out with a flanning advertisement in which he, instead of giving the real estificate of cure with the real signature attached, goes on to tell the public that Mr. B. purchased so and so, and the effect was so and so; and that Mr. C. tried our article and was cured. Now those who purchase medicine upon such statements, mustrely of course upon the statements of the vender, who himself is interested to sell the article. He may speak the truth, or he may go beyond the truth. Now I would ask if such persons act the reasonable part, to spend their money and run the risk delaying a core by purchasing upon such statements, when there are other articles before the public for the same complaints, which come recommended by the highest authority, and with the real signature of the individual attached to the certificate: certainly they do not. We must say here tha 2 or 3 days has been immense, occasioned by the great flood of rain, while many are now brooding over their pecuniary losses to every one. Perhaps thousands have got wet feet, or by some mishap, have contracted a slight cold, little do they think of the subsequent misery it brings on, unless the cough is allayed and the cold removed and rooted out of the system by degrees it grows on them until consumption has possession of the doomed frame! Having stated the cause, what will cure them? The answer is, Perse's Horehound Candy! And why can that be selected from the many pretended cures of the day? Because it has cured thousands, from the Head of the Government down to the private citizen—all have used it, all have experienced its benefits. This superiority they are enabled to maintain in consequence of the general adaptation of the cash principle by the public, esulting from past experience, that the credit system necessarily imposed a heavy tax on the prompt paying customer to supply the losses from that class of the community which must necessarily be excluded from this establishment. By adhering strictly to the Cash system, enables the subscribers to furnish their customers with garments of superior style and finish at a very great reduction from credit prices.

Gentlemen who consemplate refitting or altering the arrangments of their wardrobe would do well to give us a call, as our assortment is one of the most extensive in the city, as various as the changes of fashion, embracing all the different styles of French Elastic Cassimeres of the choicest patterns, for which this establishment has become so celebrated. Strangers and others visiting the city are particularly invited to call and avanue for themselves and test the above assertions by patronizing an exclusive cash house.

No deviation in prices and strict puretuality observed in filling orders.
